Brief Description: A short outline of the content and skills that the program delivers. In this program, science and math teachers worked in industry placements in the community while working on the MA. They learned about current issues in STEM education and conducted an action inquiry project to test a new innovation in their classroom. They learned about data collection and analysis, how to present data, and how to integrate industry practices into their classroom.
Reason for Disestablishing the Program: Please briefly explain why the program is being disestablished. This program was supported by external funding through grants and support from the College of Education. All of this funding has gone away and there is no funding for a coordinator for industry placements that was an essential part of the program.
